COMPANY INFORMATION

Paragon and sister company Propac Images have officially merged, providing more opportunities for customers and enhanced synergy in manufacturing operations. Customers can now order both Paragon and Propac brand items on a single order which will all be shipped together making it easier to purchase a mix of products from both lines.

Propac Images started in 1990 as a division of Paragon manufacturing smaller framed art pieces and utilizing the scrap materials from Paragon's larger items. In 1991, Propac was incorporated as a new entity and moved into its own building and began expanding their line to include value priced canvas, mirrors and handcrafted items.

Customers may shop both Paragon and Propac brands at the Paragon website www.paragonpg.com.
