Gaya pendants are handcrafted ceramic pendants with a generous globe profile, customizable finishes, and a soft aperture that turns a single fixture into a sculptural focal point.

The Moab Collection unites Atis, Bruma, and Mira - three ceramic pendants inspired by Utah rock formations, with desert tones, warm downward light, and sculptural shadows.

Part of the Primitive Collection, Zyon pendant pairs rustic ceramic texture with an organic bell form in Cinnamon, Ivory, or Desert finishes for a warm Wabi Sabi statement.

Soleil Pendant in ceramic, shown illuminated with its signature oval opening and warm glow, blending sculptural form with decorative and functional light.

Juliet turns the wall into part of the design. The ceramic-and-glass sconce casts a fanlike pattern through carved openings, creating a graphic wash of warm light that works well for all locations.

Lua, from the Latin for moon, reflects changing lunar phases through its asymmetrical ceramic form, creating striking light effects from every angle.

Arezzo Pendant features a handcrafted ceramic shade with a soft sculptural profile and broad downward glow, designed for refined kitchens, dining areas, and gathering spaces.

Nash stacks rounded ceramic forms into a tall floor lamp with customizable finishes and fabric dome options, bringing artisanal texture to living and lounge settings.
