COMPANY INFORMATION

Ästhetik is a house of specialty textile brands: Heritage Fabrics, Roth & Tompkins, and Weathervane Hill. It is built on one idea: own the making. Since 1978, our North Carolina workroom has loomed, cut, sewn, and finished fabric, curtains, shades, and pillows in-house, sourced from trusted mills worldwide rather than shipped overseas for production. That control means shorter lead times, tighter quality control, and a fair price we stand behind, plus deep in-stock inventory here in the US, so what you see on the floor is what ships this week, not this quarter.

At Market, we are the layer that finishes a room after the furniture is chosen: drapery, upholstery yardage, cushions, and table linens carrying one vendor relationship from raw fabric to finished piece. Every yard ships with a clear end-use (drapery, upholstery, or multi-purpose), so what you spec is what performs, no guessing on the workroom floor. Designers and procurement teams building a project, whether it is one room or a full hospitality property, get one source instead of five. Our collections span on purpose: traditional patterns with real pedigree, quietly tailored neutrals, coastal prints with an Old Florida wink, Americana motifs with genuine character. Stop by and see the fabric and the finished goods side by side, same house, same workroom, one relationship.
