DISTRICT EIGHT INTRODUCES NEW LIVING, DINING AND LOUNGE DESIGNS AT HIGH POINT FALL MARKET 2026

New introductions continue the Saigon-born brand's exploration of design, material and the role of furniture in social life.

01

NEN SOFA

NEN Sofa takes a lower, compact form with a continuous horizontal profile. Its linear silhouette rests on timber elements, while fine leather stitching defines the upholstered edges.

02

BOW DINING

BOW is Monica Förster's study in openness: a single continuous curve, first drawn in the chair's back and now carried across the dining collection.

03

BUOM CUSHIONED LOUNGE CHAIR

BUOM draws from the silhouette of a sail in full wind. Its leather seat stretches between slanted oak legs, creating a suspended profile balanced by a solid oak frame.

04

DINH PING PONG TABLE

DINH Ping Pong Table features a detachable leather net, allowing the table to shift between play, work and gathering. A solid oak frame and refined joinery define its material expression.

05

DINH MAHJONG TABLE

DINH Mahjong Table pairs leather-wrapped edges with a felt-lined surface. Integrated drawers and drink holders bring practical detail to extended play.

06

BAGUA SWIVEL LOUNGE CHAIR

BAGUA lounge chairs now feature swivel configurations, bringing greater flexibility to conversation, orientation and movement within a space.

07

LOLA SWIVEL LOUNGE CHAIR

LOLA lounge chairs now feature swivel configurations, bringing greater flexibility to conversation, orientation and movement within a space.

08

NEN DRESSER

NEN features a raised rectilinear platform and a stable, well-defined structure. With metal handles add a textural accent to the warm wood palette.
